DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. Claims 1,6-8 and 10-11 are objected to because of the following informalities: using capital letters in words such as "Base Stations" and "Switch" is not necessary in the claims. Appropriate correction is required.

Double Patenting

2. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

3. Claims 1 and 4-11 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1 and 5-12 of U.S. Patent No. 6,430,395. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because claims 1 and 5-12 of 6,430,395 encompass the scope of claims 1 and 4-11 of the instant application. The difference between the sets of claims is found in claim 1 of each the 6,430,395 patent and the instant application. Claim 1 of 6,430,395 describes in a wireless communication system comprising a plurality of base stations (i.e., reads on, at least two base station) and at least one switch in communication with the base stations a method of synchronizing (i.e., reads on, using a short-range communication protocol for performing tasks that require accurate time synchronization) at least one neighboring base station (i.e., reads on at least two base stations communicating with the at least one switch) to a base station connected with a mobile unit.

Although 6,430,395 does not specifically discuss periodically transmitting during a selected time interval with higher transmission power than during normal transmission and receiving the transmission with higher transmission power at the least one neighboring base station, in conjunction with accurate time synchronization, this "fine synchronization" is encompassed in the low-level protocol running at the base station connected to the mobile unit as described in claim 1 of 6,430,395.

Omission of element and its function in combination is obvious expedient if remaining elements perform same function as before. In re KARLSON (CCPA) 136 USPQ 184 (1963).

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 2 and 3 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Art Unit: 2686

5. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: prior art of record fails to explicitly disclose in combination with the limitations of claim 1, wherein the increased transmission power during the synchronization hop is at least twice as great as the normal transmission power and wherein the synchronization hop is transmitted at a different frequency than the remaining periodic hops.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Mangullis et al., U.S. Patent No. 4,617,674, discloses a synchronizing system for spread spectrum transmissions between small earth stations by satellite via an intermediate hop to a large earth station.

Fukasawa et al., U.S. Patent No. 5,715,521, discloses a method of controlling synchronization signal power in a communication system.

Atarius, U.S. Patent No. 6,278,699, discloses a synchronization technique and system for spread spectrum radio communication.
